Editor's Column

There's a publicity story elsewhere in the Pine Cone, Wish For a Husband Sunday at Mission San Miguel Fiesta, which we got in the mail this week. You sit in the Wishing Chair and wish, an enchanting idea for Valentine's Day. But if any of you are serious about this, we recommend praying to St. Joseph as a more reliable procedure. The publicity on the Wishing Chair doesn't specify what sort of husband. If you pray to St. Joseph, you can be sure of a good husband—kind, loving, industrious, patient and permanent—if you deserve one.

But don't stay away from the Wishing Chair Fiesta on my say-so. It's possible the Wishing Chair is in St. Joseph's Department. Besides, there's to be enchiladas and music.

TV cable users have four more days to sample Channel 9, which has been coming in over Cable 3 since the first of the month. Starting Monday, the cable company will send Channel 2 over Cable 3 until March 1. March 1 to 15 Channel 11 will be on 3. On March 15, cable subscribers will vote by mail on which of the three channels they prefer.

Cable officials say that, whichever channel is selected, they will continue the policy of switching over to Channel 2 for major sports events.

Our vote goes to Channel 9, the non-commercial San Francisco Station that provides music of a high order, courses in Russian and Spanish, poetry readings, discussions, interviews, quality entertainment in all the arts. There are four other cables purveying commercial television, both network and local. There should be one for us egg-heads.

We are sure that a majority of cable users enjoy 9 and very much want to keep it, but they won't be able to unless they bestir themselves to vote for it. In fact, those who have enjoyed 9 since February 1 might do a little pre-election campaigning among their friends.

We hope the Arts Commission will not decide to proceed first with a Carmel Arts Festival, postponing the Artist-in-residence project, as they seemed inclined to do yesterday.

The Arts Festival is a monstrous project. It will require heavy financing. Its value to the residents of Carmel is not clear and won't be until the committee defines more specifically their object in producing it.

The Artist-in-residence program can be home-sustained and self-supporting. It does not depend upon, nor encourage, an influx of tourists. It is a project designed for the enjoyment of the residents themselves. Also it would result in prestige for Carmel, if that is what the Arts Commission is seeking, a doubtful objective in itself.

High Waves Damage Residences

Towering waves smashed along the Carmel shoreline on Tuesday, damaged cliffside homes, hurled boulders across Scenic Drive on Carmel Point and destroyed the pier and boathouse at Stillwater Cove in Pebble Beach.

Billows of white water swept over the beach, opened the bar at the mouth of the Carmel River and left the parking lot at the end of Carmelo Street almost obliterated by logs, rocks, seaweed and sand.

Chunks of asphalt were broken off Scenic Drive north of Bayview Avenue, mesembryanthemum was stripped from the cliffs and fences broken as the water surged across the street. In places six inches of sand were deposited over the roadbed.

The county road department closed Scenic Drive south of Martin Way until the litter left by the waves was cleared away. By late afternoon the road was open. Persons flocked to see the spectacular waves and cars moved in a steady procession round Carmel Point until sundown.

A window on the south side of the Stephen Kahn home, the Butterfly House, was shattered by a huge wave on Tuesday morning. According to Mr. Kahn, great quantities of water poured through the opening, swept across the breakfast room area and threw Mrs. Kahn against a chair as she fled before the surge. Until X-rays were taken it was thought she had suffered a broken rib.

Boulders, sand and kelp littered the floor. All floor coverings had to be removed. Sheets of heavy plywood were nailed to the outside of windows facing the ocean in the Kahn house as the thundering waves continued to pound the shore.

The Anderson house, north of the Butterfly House, had no broken windows but waves deposited debris in the garden and destroyed

Joe Goodrick, 4-H Exchange Delegate To West Germany

Joe Goodrick, Jr., of Carmel Valley has been selected by the National 4-H Foundation to spend seven months in Germany as an International Farm Youth Exchange delegate. He will meet other delegates in Washington, D. C. on April 5 and on April 16 will sail with European delegates from Montreal, Canada.

In Germany, Joe will live and work with rural farm people for seven months, returning to the United States in November. He is a sheep and hog farmer in Carmel Valley and has been leader of the Peachtree 4-H Club near King City for five years. He graduated from Sunset School and Carmel High School and studied at California Polytechnic Institute at San Luis Obispo before becoming a livestock farmer. He was a member of Carmelo 4-H Club in the Valley during school years.

The International Farm Exchange program sends young men between the ages of 21-30 all over the world. Applicants are selected first by the county in which they live, then the state, and lastly nationally. Joe will represent Monterey County, the State of California, and the United States in Germany. He is going abroad in the "spring phase" of the International Youth Exchange program and will remain in Germany through the growing season, returning after the harvest.

Bonding Company Calls For Bids On Carmel Hill Job

Bids for completion of the interchange project on Carmel Hill have been called by the bonding company involved, it was announced by the California Division of Highways yesterday.

The bonding company will open bids on Tuesday afternoon, February 23, in the division of highway office in San Luis Obispo.

Eben Whittlesey Francis Whitaker Run For Council

Two more citizens announced their intention of running for city council this morning, former city councilman Francis Whitaker and Eben Whittlesey, Carmel attorney and long-time resident.

Whitaker is circulating his nomination papers today. Fred Stanley, who took out a "mystery" paper earlier in the week, said this morning that he will circulate it for Eben Whittlesey, whom he has persuaded to run.

Whittlesey, who was a candidate in 1954, told the Pine Cone:

"I am running because I feel that anyone who has lived in the community as long as I have, who feels that he can contribute to city government, should make himself available if asked to run."

He says he is for the implementation as far as possible of the master plan. He feels that we are suffering from the fact that there has been too much delay in putting a revised master plan into effect.

He doesn't like to see interests of any one group in the city become paramount since they form too strong a pressure on council and planning commission.

"There has been a tendency to set the business community and the residential community against each other," he says. "Planning in Carmel for preservation of values that have made Carmel a community we like to live in must be considered a unified problem of both residential and business community."

He is anxious to see action taken to preserve the natural green belt within the city—"areas in gullies and so forth"—which are still available for building. He hopes they can be protected.

He is "anxious to see permanent measures taken to prevent our becoming too much a one-industry town with an excessive influence upon city government, businesses which are primarily dependent upon tourist trade. On the whole, the development of motels we have at the present has been beneficial to the community but it is important that it shall not become much larger."

"The Forest Commission has not received proper support from the

Wakefield Announces March 19 Date For Carmel Kite Festival

The Carmel Kite Festival will be held on March 19 this year at the High School, according to William Wakefield, recreation director for the school district.

Kite-making materials will be available at Sunset School shop the first two weeks of March. The Lions Club will sponsor the festival and provide prizes for the various classes. They will also select the judges.

Carmel children and some adults have been making kites and flying them in the spring festival for over a quarter of a century. The Kite Festival was initiated by the late Reverend Willis White. His daughter, Mrs. Francis Herrick of Oakland, still has a house here and attends the Kite Festival each year. Her husband is Dr. Francis Herrick, Lynn White Jr. professor of history at Mills College.

Rec Board Looks At Forest Theater For Horseshoe Court

Members of the Carmel Recreation Commission discussed possible development of two pieces of city-owned property as adult recreation areas at their noon meeting on Tuesday in Su Vecino Restaurant.

The areas suggested for such development were the Mission and First Street property, deeded to the city for a park site, and the lower one-third of the Forest Theater property on Mountain View Avenue.

Adult recreation facilities proposed were horseshoe and shuffleboard courts and a bowling green. Covering for such facilities was also discussed and the idea that any recreation development would retain as far as possible the natural environment of the areas.

George Yates thought that adult recreation facilities might be restricted to residents only by providing citizens with a card similar to a library card. These cards to be issued to residents only and not to be available to transient visitors.

Commission secretary Larry Rose was asked to prepare a map of the Mission and First Street site and an accessibility description to the area for adult recreation purposes.

Music On The Peninsula

BY MARY LINDSAY-OLIVER

One of the finest chamber music programs yet given by our local musicians. Music for a Quiet Hour, took place Sunday at All Saints'. Placed in the center of the Chancel, with lighted candles, the Carmel String Quartet of Eiko Yoshizato, Gerald Slavich, David Hagemeyer and Mary Dobel opened with a Vivaldi Concerto in A minor for solo violin and strings, with H. M. M. Nicholas the soloist.

This immediately established the whole mood of delightful and peaceful music with some brilliant playing from the soloist. Haydn's String Quartet op. 64 followed, in which Eiko Yoshizato was excellent in her smooth, solid bowing as leader. It will be interesting to many here to know she was formerly a pupil of Mary Pasmore, for so long a member of the San Francisco Symphony, a well known concert artist, now playing with the Honolulu Symphony Orchestra. In the Andante movement Yoshizato's tone and execution were brilliant, though all gave a balanced performance. Raymond Duste as additional artist with Nicholas performed with telling virtuosity a Bach concerto for Oboe and Violin, an instrumental combination seldom heard. Finally, a Handel Concerto for Organ with strings and oboe completed a choice of compositions that was an inspiration to listen to. Robert Forbes at the organ displayed his leadership and fine manipulation combined with the other artists. Credit goes to the Reverend H. M. M. Nicholas for such a program and we hope more will be given at All Saints', for it was truly worship through pure music which could stimulate all and fittingly in memory of Dene Denny, founder of the Carmel Bach Festival, and her long years of service to the locality in good music.

PADRES FACE DANGEROUS LIVE OAK QUINTET TONIGHT

Upset-minded Live Oak High provides the competition for Coach Dan Yurkovich's front-running Padres in tonight's CCAL B-division hoop action at the Carmel pavilion. Since Friday is a school holiday, this week's prep basketball action will take place tonight and provide a three-day rest period for the high school students and teachers. Live Oak brings two teams to the Carmel gym and would like nothing better than to add the Padres as their upset victims. Two weeks ago, the Acorns rudely upset league-leading King City to elevate Carmel into the top spot a game ahead of the Mustangs and the Pacific Grove Breakers. The Cinderella team from Morgan Hill liked the taste of victory over King City and came back last week to jolt Marty Baskin's Breaker varsity in another startling upset.

Live Oak is a small but fast aggregation which dotes on good defense and a solid ball-control type of offense. Well-equipped with gifted outside shooters, the Acorns make most of their shots count and have been able to put good pressure on the opponents. In the last outing against the Padres, Live Oak nearly upset the league leaders, dropping the nod in the last few seconds of the game. Carmel's tremendous height advantage is expected to give the Padres control of both backboards and limit the stubby Acorns to one shot in each offensive drive. With Russ Wise, Chris Wilkin, John Wilkin, and Toby Edson vacuuming the boards, the Padres figure to wear down the hard-working Green and Gold crew.

Live Oak's lightweights blistered the Little Padres in the first meeting this season but Hadley Hicks' boys figure to make it closer in tonight's rematch. Improved teamwork in the starting five of Steve Fairfield, Forrest Cornwall, John Odello, Jim Miles, and Frank Bucher has given the Padrecitos a lift in recent games and the Little Pads would enjoy pulling an upset of their own. Off the showing in league play so far, the Little Acorns are the second best squad in B-division competition, taking a back seat only to the classy Pacific Grove Wavelets.

PADRES CLIP GONZALES IN B-DIVISION HOOP ACTION

Carmel High's rangy varsity basketball squad overpowered the stubby Gonzales Spartans in a battle for the backboards and wound up with a 51-43 win over the hard-trying valley lads. The scrappy Spartans made a fight of it all the way but the superior Carmel height took its toll in the fourth quarter. Going into the final heat, Carmel had a 36-33 edge and the game could have gone either way until Toby Edson pumped through 8 vital points to put the Padres out of reach. Edson enjoyed his best night of the current campaign, hitting for 19 points and playing an outstanding floor game. Top Gonzales performer was Erasmo Segundo, an all-league guard candidate, who burned the nets for 23 points and kept the Spartans within hailing distance of the league-leaders.

Russ Wise (10), Chris Wilkin (7), Dave Fuller (8), Fred Bucher (3), John Wilkin (2), and Alan Dahlstrand (2) also contributed points for the Padre cause. Chris Wilkin picked off 17 rebounds to lead the Padres in the backboard department and he had strong help from Wise, Edson, and brother John.

Carmel's lightweight squad dropped its 7th straight league game as the Little Spartans rolled to a 44-23 victory. The Little Padres couldn't control hot-shooting forward Manuel Rosalez who pumped through 15 points while seeing action for a little over half of the game. Frank Bucher was high scorer for the Padrecitos for the second straight week, meshing 10 points from his forward spot. Jim Miles contributed 7 markers for the Carmel cause with John Odello, Rick Baldwin, Forrest Cornwall, and Steve Fairfield also hitting the score column.

Carmel's junior-varsity posted a 27-13 halftime lead over the Spartan jayvees and eased up in the second half to finish with a comfortable 51-36 win. Scott Forbes found the Spartan baskets to his liking, pumping through 24 points for his top scoring effort of the season. Frank Mayo, Bob Little, Paul Rice, Jim Brown, and

THROUGH THE HOOP

For sheer participation, you can't beat the Carmel Mission elementary school basketball program which is directed by Jack Giles, Carmel Youth Center's ebullient director. With help from former Padres, Henry Overin and Bobby Updike, the Mission has over 90 youngsters taking part in the noon hour hoop program. The fifth through eighth grades are organized for league play with eighth-grade boys doubling as coaches for the younger sprouts. Getting valuable leadership experience are Jeff Zils, Enborg Halle, Charlie Teevân, Greg Jones, Tom Mason, and Jim Belvail. In addition to close-knit intramural play, the Mission has teams entered in the Monterey Recreation Department's elementary school league. Although the material is spread around pretty thin, the Mission kids win their share of the games and are having a lot of fun with their "participation for everyone program."

Coach Ed Larsh's Monterey High Toreadores are making a shambles of the CCAL A-division basketball race and at this writing are undefeated in league play with a two-game lead in the five-team circuit. The high-flying Toreadores haven't been tested since their early-season loss to the McClymonds High quintet from Oakland. Bob Hagen's slow-moving Gilroy High five appears to be the only CCAL squad capable of giving Larsh's charges any semblance of a game. The wily Hagen makes the Toreadores slow down to his pace and the Mustang smooth-working play patterns have moved effectively through the Monterey man-for-man defense. Carmel hoop fans will get a good look at both the Toreadores and Mustangs during the Padre tournament which is slated for March 3-5.

Monterey Peninsula College still clings to a mathematical chance for the junior college cage title but the powerful San Jose City College Jaguars appear to have the situation well under control. The Lobos have dropped two decisions in league play while the Jaguars are undefeated so far. Monterey gained revenge over Diablo JC, one of the teams to beat them, by drubbing Coach Bryan's quintet in the rematch at Monterey High gym last Saturday night. Coach Peletta's crew took on Foothill Tuesday night and toyed with the Owls to post an easy victory... Basketball action at the Carmel High gym on Monday nights in a league which features three Monterey teams and one from Carmel. Henry Overin's Carmel Merchant squad represents the village while Monterey's entries are Schulken, Segovia Liquors, and Giles Mens' Wear.

FIRST AID CLASS STARTS TUESDAY

A standard First Aid Class will start at the Carmel Red Cross chapter Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock. Enrollment is open to anyone over 16 years of age. Call Mayfair 4-6921 to enroll.

Only four three hour sessions are required for the newly revised First Aid which includes the basic essentials of First Aid and the simple, effective mouth to mouth resuscitation.

Dr. Margaret W. Barnes will be in charge of instruction.

FROM A LIBRARIAN'S NOTEBOOK

By Ruth Galvin Thornburg

About four years ago we started using the electric charging machine for the checking out of books, and there were several reasons why we did so. One reason was that it cut down mistakes to a minimum since the human element was eliminated, on our side at least. Another reason was that activity had so increased in our library that we simply did not have time to do the charging by hand. At first our patrons remembered the facts and brought their cards. Of late we find that more and more patrons are forgetting their cards and the "just look-up my number" requests are coming offener and oftener. In fact it has become apparent that many borrowers now make no effort to carry their cards with them. We have two alternatives. We can refuse to charge books to patrons having no card with them, or we can charge a fine. For many years this library made a small charge for looking up a patron's number, and it seems we must regretfully return to this procedure. Beginning March 1, we shall charge a fee of ten cents for looking up the number of any person wishing to charge out books without a card. Our circulation activity is so large that we must do something to try to remind patrons to carry their cards because every extra process we have to do takes up that much more time. One day we loaned 740 books with only two people on duty at the desk, and all day it seemed that patrons who borrowed also returned, and the pile of books to be slipped and reshelfed was enormous. The first six days of this month we averaged 640 books charged out each day. This is wonderful. This is living. But only when the borrowers come armed with an identification card which slips into the charging machine and does its share of the work. Ten cents please?

The new McKay's Guide to Alaska is here. It seems to be quite complete in its guidance, but the thing to remember is that you must use the index. Names of towns and cities are not listed in the index under name but under a general heading such as Towns, Cities, and Villages. In other words it seems to be more of a subject index than a name index. With that in mind you may expect to be guided.

The Romance of the Three Kingdoms is said to be regarded by the Chinese as their greatest novel. It was written in the 14th century, but it may have been assembled by slow process over several hundred years. Lo Kuan-Chung is supposed to have been the author, or at least to have put it in somewhat its present state, but it probably was written by many men. In two volumes in the edition published by the Tuttle Company, and translated by C. H. Brewitt-Taylor, this is a literary feast.

The Press of the University of Chicago has recently published The Complete Greek Tragedies, in four volumes, and edited by David Grene. There is one volume for the works of Aeschylus, one of Euripides, and two of Sophocles. These are beautiful books so far as printing, paper, and general make-up are concerned, too. Give them the beautiful treatment they deserve.

Photographs by Kurt Otto-Wasow are the connecting link between three books of a series the editing of which was done by three different people. All three books have the same format, the right hand page being a striking color photograph, the opposite page being the explanatory writing. The titles and authors are Paris by Sven Stople, Rome by Peter Quennell, and Florence by Sylvia Sprigge. Not large books, but here is fireside travel at its best.

There are so many good new books this week. Come in for them and remember to bring your card. This will get you in the mood for the hard times after March 1.

Tuesday evening, February 16, at 8:00 o'clock in the Sunset Auditorium, Cleveland Grant's new color film of wildlife in northern and high countries, Land of Early Autumn, will be presented.

In the Sand Counties of central Wisconsin, Cleve and Ruth Grant have refilmed with modern cameras the mating display of the ruffed grouse. They have made a sequence on the scarlet tanager

Mrs. Marcus Offers Drama Classes For Youth At Circle

To help further the interest of young people in good theatre, a class in improvisational theatre and creative dramatics is offered at the Golden Bough Circle Theatre in Carmel.

The first 12-week course for teenagers will include basic techniques of acting and stage presence. It will serve to stimulate the imagination and creativity of the young people, and integrate all aspects of the theatre such as lighting, make-up, stagecraft, costuming, and speech.

The director of the Children's Drama Workshop is Mrs. DeVera Marcus, whose background includes two years as an assistant director at the Circle Theatre in Hollywood, where she worked with Charlie Chaplin, Sydney Chaplin, Marie Wilson, William Saroyan, and Charles Laughton. She has also trained with Mara Alexander Gilbert of the Actor's Lab and David Sarvis of the Actor's Workshop in San Francisco. She teaches dramatics for the Monterey Recreation Department.

In addition to the teen class, to be held on Saturdays from 10:00 to 12:00 o'clock, there will be similar workshops for younger children. Mondays from 3:30 to 5:00 o'clock will be reserved for children six to eight, and Tuesdays from 3:30 to 5:00 o'clock will be set aside for the nine to twelve age group.

For additional information, call Mrs. Marcus at FR 2-3281.

Edith Aldwell

Mrs. Edith Frances Aldwell died in her home on Saturday morning after a lengthy illness. She was the mother of Mrs. Eileen Aldwell Martin of Carmel and Alan Fraser Aldwell, member of the Carmel High School faculty.

Mrs. Aldwell was born in Kildare, Ireland, on February 12, 1880. Her marriage to Edward C. Aldwell took place in Wales in 1907. Fifty-three years ago she and her husband came to the United States. They lived on the San Francisco Peninsula before Mr. Aldwell, a banker, retired to Carmel Valley. Two years ago they moved to Pacific Grove.

Besides her son and daughter here, Mrs. Aldwell is survived by another son, William Basil Aldwell of Los Angeles; three sisters, Mrs. Violet R. Simpson of San Mateo, Mrs. Ida High of Fresno and Mrs. Mabel Bellis of Wales; a brother, Eccles W. Cuthbert of Sydney, Australia; and three grandchildren, Mary, Jane and John Martin of Carmel.

Funeral services were held yesterday afternoon in the Paul Funeral Chapel with the Reverend David Hill, rector of All Saints' Episcopal Church, officiating. Burial was in El Carmelo Cemetery.

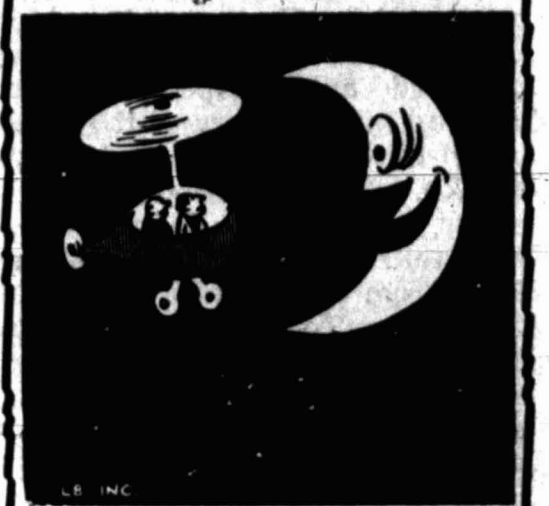

that does justice to our most brilliantly colored bird.

The Grants have long hoped that someday, somewhere, someone with a camera would film the great bison fight. They themselves tried again this autumn, and if they did not film the greatest fight, they came closer to it than anyone ever has before. Twice Cleve had to grab his camera and run to avoid being smashed by battling bulls.

Not since 1941 had the Grants enjoyed a really fine spell of early fall weather in the Canadian Rockies. Mountain goats, bighorns, elk, moose, deer, coyote and bear all had a wonderful Indian summer.

Flying to Alaska, Mr. Grant arrived in time to film the autumn change of color on the tundra. There, bull moose and caribou lose the velvet from their antlers as the tundra turns from green to red. They polish them and start sparring as the reds become amber. Then in turn the tundra is blackened by frost and wind, finally whitened by snow. The land of early autumn gives way to early winter.

presented Claire Coci, who has an international reputation as a concert organist and who made a remarkable performance on a Hammond Organ. It made one wish to hear her on a big pipe organ, for while the Hammond is a clever substitute, it cannot produce the quality of the finer tones from pipe construction. The way in which Coci tackled the instrument and produced an unexpected power used up much energy of the artist to get the musical effects she aimed for. Vivaldi's Concerto in D minor, arranged by Bach, a Chorale Prelude by Bach and his Sinfonia from a Cantata arranged by Coci, Five Toccatas on "Do" by Seixas, also arranged by the artist, and a Mozart Fantasia and Fugue in F minor occupied the first half of the program. An Adagio by Andriessen, modern Dutch composer, opened the second part, a deep and flowing melody that received strong response from the audience, for it was given with intense feeling, as also was the Lyric Rhapsody by Searle Wright, organist of St. Paul's Chapel at Columbia University, as well as a brilliant Toccata by Monnikendam. A sensitive Spinning Song by Marcel Dupre and his Variations sur un Noel, with its final fugue and toccata ending, with the theme in the pedals, was a veritable tour de force from the small-sized artist that only a Cathedral organ could have done complete justice. She also spoke in an interesting way to the audience who recalled her for three extra numbers. Temianka's Little Symphony on March 7 will complete this Season's Series.

DR. FUNK WINS CARMEL TOASTMASTER CONTEST

The annual Carmel Toastmasters speech contest was won last night by Dr. Harold Funk at a pot-luck dinner meeting held at the Monterey home of Howard Reed. Other finalists were Howard Reed, Joseph Wythe and Thomas Burke. Dr. Funk will represent the Carmel Club in the area contest to be held in Santa Cruz next month. Bert Davis was toastmaster and Alex Parvu conducted table topics. Wives and ladies attended the function.

parts of the fencing surrounding the property on the south.

The Frank Lloyd Wright house at the south end of Carmel Beach was undamaged by the swells which pounded against its rock foundations.

The 300 foot pier and the boat-house at Stillwater Cove became flotsam as gigantic waves tore the structures apart. Five small boats on the pier were also destroyed, these included Toro sailing prams and skiffs. Three fiberglass floats, a dozen anchors, mooring chains and a big winch disappeared with the pier.

The cliffside home of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Cunningham on Yankee Point, Carmel Highlands, was badly damaged when breakers broke over the house, tearing off part of the roof.

A combination of five foot tides driven by gale winds which gusted up to 40 miles an hour created the gigantic waves, the largest in over 20 years. Rain, hail, thunder and lightning added excitement to the storm which continued through yesterday morning.

William Wakefield, school district recreation director, was asked to report at the next meeting on all recreation facilities now existing in Carmel.

Elisabeth Sounitza

Mrs. Elisabeth Sounitza, until recently a Carmel resident, died on February 2 in Palo Alto after a long illness. She was 72 years old.

Mrs. Sounitza was born in Russia and lived in Carmel for many years before moving to Palo Alto. She is survived by a son, Vadim W. Sounitza of Palo Alto.

BONDING CO. CALLS FOR BIDS

transferred by the state because of inability on the part of the contractors to proceed with the work. As is usual in such cases, the Department of Public Works has called on the bonding company to complete the project.

Recent rains have so waterlogged the freeway construction site, the division of highways said, that it is doubtful if any further work could be performed until March 1.

Rains and delay have not jeopardized the landscaping plans, since the resident engineer said, the top soil has been holding. The intention is to replant with material native to the area. Pine seedlings in the thousands have been purchased. The landscaping will be in the hands of the state department of public works.

MAD LITTLE ISLAND

Chamber Music Group Presents Singer, Duo-Pianists Feb. 14

Fidel Sevilla, violist, recently returned from two years playing in Europe, will be guest performer at the February 14 concert of the Chamber Music Society of Carmel, in a Henry Eccles Viola and Piano Sonata. The performance will be the first in this area. Mr Sevilla has studied with Ernest Morawec, principal violist of the Vienna Philharmonic, with Ferenc Molnar of the San Francisco Symphony and with Paul Doktor, concert virtuoso. Sevilla has played with the Vienna Kammer Orchestra, the Haydn Orchestra of Vienna, and in Salzburg with the Tone Art Orchestra and the Mozarteum Orchestra.

The program at 5:00 o'clock Sunday at the Carmel Woman's Club will also feature the duo-pianists, Miss Dorothy Heer and Mrs. Naidene Stengel and Mrs. Norma Jean Scott, soprano.

Miss Heer has studied at Mills College, locally with David Alberto, under Madame Stepanie Shehatovich and coached with Albramowitsch. She played the Saint Saens second Piano Concerto with the Monterey Peninsula Symphony; was accompanist for Eva Gustavson in her Monterey Peninsula concert in Pacific Grove this season.

Mrs. Naidene Stengel graduated from Mills College and did graduate work at the San Francisco Conservatory of Music. She also studied with Madame Shehatovich. With Miss Heer she has performed before the Friends of Music, Salinas, and other groups.

Also on the program will be a group of Ravel songs sung by Mrs. Norma Jean Scott, a graduate of Northwestern University School of Music. She studied voice with Dr. John Hoffman, Dean of Cincinnati conservatory of Music, and has coached with Mrs. Nancy Ness Bowman of Carmel. Mrs. Scott was soloist in the Beethoven Ninth Symphony presented by the Monterey Peninsula Symphony last season, and has appeared as soloist in opera, on the concert stage, and with chamber music groups.

Theatregoers' Choice At Studio Or Bough Circle; Nudes With Violins

BY VIRGINIA SHAW

Both the Golden Bough Circle Theatre and The Studio are offering Noel Coward's newest comedy, Nude With Violin—a peculiar contretemps in an otherwise healthy rivalry.

The Bough production has a week's jump on the Studio's (which opened last Thursday), but unfortunately it was not possible to review the first opening. So it was decided—arbitrarily, but impartially—to sample both shows the same evening. If the procedure (which we do not recommend) does not do justice to either production, it is at least equally unfair to both, and we ask the indulgence of all concerned.

The whole situation seems a bit unfair to those who enjoy a choice in the theatrical bill of fare, but it does offer unique opportunities for comparison. Surprisingly, the competition does not seem to be hurting either box office: both performances we saw were well attended and enthusiastically received.

Edward Kuster's offering at the Bough is on the whole smoother and more "British;" the comic lines and situations are underplayed, the acting in general restrained. The Studio plays it frankly for laughs, and gets them; under Richard Bailey's direction, the play has a fast and facetious bounce, and more fun is extracted from the material. The difference in pace results in occasional errors in marksmanship: where Kuster's offhand approach sometimes misses the target altogether, Bailey's tends to clobber it.

The target set up by Coward is pretense, avarice and fakery in the milieu of modern art. Nude With Violin is a post-mortem of the affairs of a celebrated French abstractionist, Paul Sorodin, whose demise brings together—for various selfish reasons—his long-estranged family, the dealer who promoted his work into a going commodity on the art market, and a weird assortment of characters, who, it develops, actually painted the master's work. Revelation of the hoax, and manipulation of the complications it poses, comes from Sebastien Lacreole, the late painter's worldly rogue of a valet.

There is considerable difference in the interpretation of this key role by Frederick Rider at the Bough and of Jerry DeBono at The Studio. Mr. Rider—tall, elegant, and sporting a little upturned mustache—plays Sebastien with suave urbanity. Mr. DeBono—stocky, dynamic, and satyr-bearded—is less subtle, more sanguine, and on top of every comic possibility. Where Rider glides, DeBono dances (he actually cuts a caper or two). Both make extensive use of the Suggestively Raised Eyebrow, and the results are a draw; Mr. Rider has a great expanse of forehead to work with, but Mr. DeBono has more brows. Both display admirable fluency and sure presence; their distinctive performances are each thoroughly entertaining.

Most of the raisins in Mr. Coward's script are in the second act, wherein enter the two surefire character parts: a noisily vulgar Cockney named Cherry-May and a more style, and Barbara Burdick (Bough) greater warmth; both are good. Equally fine, too, are Lee Williams (Bough) and Arturo Matias (Studio) as the stuffy son, Colin. The latter's wife, as played by Marcia Kuster (Bough), is very proper and ingenuous; Renata Blenn (Studio) broadens the characterization to a simpering ignoramus. The artist's widow gets a rather static treatment from Fran Thunen (Bough) compared to the fluttery interpretation of Margaret Phillips (Studio). A reporter from Life Magazine is made equally obnoxious by Cliff Berry (Studio) and Douglas Zug (Bough), one stressing bumpiousness, the other smugness.

Minor roles of a muscular apache, a French maid, a precocious boy, a press photographer and a Jamaican gentleman are capably filled by James Whittemore, France du Merci, Ron Allison, Phil Berger and Pat Ryan at the Studio, and by Karekin Kardzair, Madeleine Dowdakin, David Armanasco, Mike Bain and a glimpsed "George Spelvin" at the Bough.

It would have been interesting to contrast the effectiveness of arena versus conventional proscenium staging; but The Studio decided to experiment for the first time with a production in the round on Nude With Violin. It is a clever job; The Studio staging is livelier and more imaginative than the Bough's, though the latter offers fewer obstacles to actors and audiences.

Possibly as a result of the extended hassle over production rights, neither show has quite the finish it might if the same time and energy had been devoted to rehearsals. But as the saying goes, the brave man chooses, while the Coward stands aside.

Nude With Violin plays Thursday through Sunday nights at The Studio, Friday through Sunday at the Bough, both curtains at 8:30.

Auditions For Bach Festival Chorus In March

Auditions for this year's Bach Festival chorus will be held early in March on dates yet to be named, but local singers are already being sought, especially those who have sung in prior years and vocalists new in the area.

Announcement of choral sign-up and audition plans were made this week by Miss Angie Machado, following her return from Palo Alto where she recently conferred on plans for the 23rd annual Bach Festival with Sandor Salgo, who will again direct the festival.

Miss Machado, who since 1946 has rehearsed local members of festival choruses, took up her duties again recently as plans for the traditional event began here under supervision of a board of directors headed by Mrs. A. M. Allan.

Dates of the festival, being held for the first time without the leadership of its co-founder, the late Miss Dene Denny, have been set for July 18-24.

Serving with Mrs. Allan on the festival board are Mrs. Jay Chapell, vice president and secretary; Peter Ferrante, treasurer; Mrs. Walter Jennings, Charles O'Gara, Arthur Lehmann, Dr. Mast Wolfson, Ted Durein and Col. Philip Schneeberger, board members.

Mrs. Alastair MacKay of Carmel has been named to the position of business manager.

For many years the festival was arranged by Miss Denny and the late Hazel Watrous, but prior to Miss Denny's death last year, the organization was incorporated as a non-profit cultural and educational enterprise.

Local support of the internationally acclaimed festival has always been enthusiastic, and help from Carmelites and other Peninsula residents is again being asked in the housing department. Anyone with an extra available private room and bath to rent or lend is requested to contact Mrs. MacKay. This is to facilitate accommodating the many artists and performers who come from all over the country to participate.

PARISH OFFICERS INSTALLED SUNDAY AT ALL SAINTS'

Wardens and new vestrymen were installed at All Saints' Episcopal Church on Sunday morning at 11:00 o'clock. During the celebration of The Holy Communion, the retiring senior warden of the parish, Ralph Thompson, presented Lewis Fenton and Admiral A. C. Bennett (USN ret.), for installation as junior and senior wardens. Newly-elected vestrymen Howard Boise, Captain Archer M. R. Allen (USN ret.), Stephen Grant, Curtis Mitchell, Frank Putnam, Stuart Work, Dr. James Roda and Robert Gholson were each given a copy of the canons of the Church and a certificate signed by the Bishop of California and the rector of the parish.

An all Men's Choir sang the service. The Reverend David Hill, rector, preached on the topic, The True Function of the Parish. Assisting at the service were the Reverend H. M. M. Nicholas and the Reverend C. E. Wilson, chaplain at the Robert Louis Stevenson School.

ST. VALENTINE'S DAY

*High song and the heart glowing
Free wind and the sky bare!
Night gone and the light flowing
Pure sun and the world fair!*

*Blue hills and the clouds lying
White, white on the sky's brim;
Land breeze and the gulls flying,
Fields plowed to the earth's rim.*

*Spring's here and the buds breaking
Shine forth into quick flowers—
Life leaps to a glad waking
All's well and the day's ours!*

SONG AFTER RAIN

*All the little rivers
Are running to the sea
I hear them in the woodlands
Babbling exultantly.*

*The silent trees are woven
With threads of silver sound
Incessant water-voices
Through fern and furze abound.*

*Down from the rocky ledges
They tumble joyously—
Harrying, chattering, singing
Impatient for the sea.*

*Here in the upper forest
Where only silence lay,
The dark old trees are listening
To voices fresh and gay—*

*Following paths once taken
By streams that went before
The song of little rivers
Flows lyrical once more.*

BIRCH-TREE IN CRYSTAL

*Now that the silver birch-tree in the rain
Is hung with water-drops and crystal gleams
The whole bright morning is alive again
And every blade of grass a thing of dreams.*

*A bird alights, and as the drops are shaken
The soft rain falls and strings them slowly back.
The bird departs, and soon the bough forsaken
Is garlanded afresh—there is no lack.*

*The purple twigs that finger forth the bough
Against the ancient parchment of the stem
Move with a gentle motion to allow
The slow replacement of each twinkling gem.*

*Pass not the tree without a second glance
As many do who walk into my gate—
It is a miracle that will enhance
The light of day, and change the soul's estate.*

ORDINANCE NO. 10 C.S.

AN ORDINANCE ESTABLISHING ZONING DISTRICTS FOR PARKS AND BEACHES, RECREATION AREAS, AND OFF-STREET PARKING WITH LANDSCAPING; AND RECLASSIFYING LOTS 18 AND 20, BLOCK 54, CARMEL-BY-THE-SEA, TO DISTRICT R-1-P-3.

BE IT ORDAINED by the City Council of the City of Carmel-by-the-Sea as follows:

Section 1. That the Municipal Code be amended by the addition of a new article to Part X thereof, which article shall be entitled Article 3-A, and shall read as follows:

"Article 3-A

District P-1 Regulations

Section 1305.7. Purpose. In order to preserve publicly owned park and beach lands for the benefit and enjoyment of present and future generations, and to prevent inharmonious use of such lands and to prevent the destruction of the city's beautiful natural open spaces through inappropriate development, District P-1 is hereby established.

Section 1305.71. Use. The following use only is permitted in District P-1, namely, the maintenance of such property primarily in its natural state with the addition thereto of only such improvements and maintenance as would enhance such natural state, or enable the better enjoyment thereof."

Section 2. That the Municipal Code be amended by the addition of an article to Part X thereof, to be known as Article 3-B, which shall read as follows:

"Article 3-B

District P-2 Regulations

Section 1305.8. Purpose. To provide appropriately located areas for recreation and recreation facilities needed by the residents of the city and the surrounding area, District P-2 is hereby established.

Section 1305.81. Uses. The following uses only are permitted in District P-2: All uses permitted in District P-1 and in addition thereto, facilities and structures devoted to public recreation."

Section 3. Part X of the Municipal Code is hereby amended by the addition thereto of an article to be known as Article 3-C, which shall read as follows:

"Article 3-C

District P-3 Regulations

Section 1305.9. Purpose. In order to enable the city to suitably locate off-street parking facilities to the best advantage of the city and its residents, considering traffic flow, traffic congestion, density of business development, the need for off-street parking facilities both in the city at large and in specific areas thereof, and like matters, District P-3 is hereby established.

Section 1305.91. Use. The use permitted by District P-3 shall be off-street parking with landscaping. Property zoned as belonging in District P-3 shall retain such other use and be subject to such other regulation as may apply to the basic zoning of such property, it being the intention of this section that District P-3 property shall not lose any other zoning district classification such property might have upon being zoned District P-3.

Section 1305.92. Development Regulations. Before any property zoned as belonging in District P-3 be used for off-street parking, the owner of such property must first apply for and obtain from the Planning Commission approval of said owner's plan of development, and no person, firm or corporation shall develop or use property in District P-3 for off-street parking except in conformance with a resolution of the Planning Commission approving such a plan of development. The owner's application should be accompanied by a plot plan showing location and number of driveways and the grade thereof at the property line, areas devoted to landscaping and the type thereof, and the number and location of parking stalls and aisles. Said application shall be certified by the Superintendent of Streets to the effect that the driveways shown on said plot plan and the grades thereof comply with all municipal ordinances and regulations regulating driveways. The Planning Commission shall thereupon determine if the proposed development of the parking use provides for safe driveway access and for sufficient landscaped areas and properly located landscaped areas, considering in this connection the desirability of shielding parking areas from the contiguous properties and the public street, and shielding adjacent structures from public view. In general, landscaped areas shall occupy not less than 20% of the property. All frontages on streets or public ways, exclusive of driveways, shall be landscaped; not less than 75% of such landscaping shall be at least five (5) feet in height. All property lines contiguous to residential property shall be likewise landscaped by hedge or suitable material not less than five feet in height along the entire property line. All landscaping requirements of this section may be varied by the Planning Commission not more than 20% so as to either increase or decrease said requirements by such percentage, depending on location, topography or other circumstances unique to the property in question. Any other provision of this section notwithstanding, all areas not devoted to parking stalls, aisles or driveways in the use of said property for off-street parking, shall be landscaped. Insofar as the requirements of this section are concerned, the owner shall be entitled to proceed with his plan of development upon the Planning Commission's adopting its resolution approving same, which resolution may reasonably limit the time of commencement of development under it. The application required by this section may be filed by any property owner together with, or any time after, he has applied to have his property reclassified as District P-3. The Planning Commission may consider and issue its resolution approving the property owner's plan of development any time after it has formally approved and recommended the re-districting of owner's property to District P-3, without waiting for Council action. Property owner shall be entitled to proceed with his use of the property for off-street parking when he has obtained Planning Commission approval of his plan of development and his property reclassified as District P-3 without regard to which action became final first in point of time.

No property shall be devoted to P-3 usage if such usage will impinge on or reduce the minimum building site requirements or other site requirements of the zoning law. Any property, after being devoted to P-3 usage, may not be used to constitute or fulfill any building site requirement or other site requirement of the zoning law so long as the P-3 usage is continued. P-3 usage, once commenced, shall be deemed continued until the owner of the property ceases to devote it to such usage and files with the Planning Commission a notice of abandonment of such usage. Upon the filing of such notice of abandonment, the resolution approving plan of development for P-3 usage shall be of no further force and effect."

Section 4. That Lots 18 and 20, Block 54, as said lots and block are shown on Map of "Carmel-by-the-Sea, Monterey County, California," filed for record March 7,

Katherine Nieto Married

At noon on Saturday Katherine Frances Nieto was married to William John McCormack, son of William Paul McCormack of Carmel, in the Chapel of the Blessed Sacrament at Carmel Mission. Father James Voytko officiated at the marriage service.

August Nieto gave his daughter in marriage. Her waltz-length princess style white satin brocade gown had a scoop neckline, long sleeves ending in points at the wrist and below the fitted bodice the billowing skirt increased in fullness towards the back. A Queen Anne cap of pearls and orange blossoms held her shoulder-length veil in place and her bouquet was a triangular spray arrangement of white camellias.

She was attended by her cousin, Rebecca Anne Charlesworth of Fresno, who wore a Valentine red silk sheath dress. Pink carnations were used for her headdress and bouquet.

Jack McCormack was best man for his brother and West Whittaker escorted guests to their seats.

Mrs. Nieto attended the ceremony in a grey-blue brocade sheath with pink overtones which harmonized with her pink hat and camellia corsage. Her accessories were grey.

Mrs. Mary Reardon of Carmel, aunt of the groom, wore a silk print dress in various shades of blue with black hat and accessories and a pink camellia corsage.

The reception following the marriage was held in the home of the bride's parents on Torres Street. Pink and white carnations, arranged with candles and white doves, decorated the living room and potted plants were placed about the patio.

The bride and groom cut their pink and white tiered cake and were toasted in champagne before leaving for a honeymoon at an undisclosed destination. For traveling the bride changed to a teal blue dressmaker suit with matching hat and accessories.

The young couple will live in Victorville until August when the groom finishes duty at George Air Force Base. He plans to return to college in the fall.

The bride attended the Mission School, Junipero Serra High School and graduated from Carmel High School before entering Monterey Peninsula College. Until her marriage she was employed in the Monterey office of a stock and bond firm.

The groom graduated from Sunset School and Carmel High School where he was a classmate of the bride.

Out of town guests at the wedding included the bride's aunt, Mrs. Silvina Charlesworth, and her uncle, Alfonso Nieto, and Mrs. Nieto, all from Fresno; her maternal uncle, Victor Peary, and Mrs. Peary of San Francisco; and the bride's sister, Mrs. Joseph Philbin of San Jose.

Oils Win At Craft Studios

Jessica Quigley of Carmel Meadows and Dan Garcia of Carmel won first and second place, respectively, in the Carmel Craft Studio's art show on Friday afternoon. Mrs. Quigley submitted a marine oil painting and Mr. Garcia an oil abstract. The winners were decided by popular vote. The Craft Studios have an art show open to the public each Friday afternoon.

Frank Lanou Is New York Pastor

The Reverend Frank Lanou leaves tomorrow to be pastor of Canterbury Presbyterian Church in Cornwall, New York. He and his wife, Barbara, have been in Carmel for two weeks visiting Mrs. Frank Lanou Sr. Last Sunday morning Frank preached the sermon at Carmel Presbyterian Church.

He graduated from Carmel High School in 1952, spent two years at Pomona College before transferring to Occidental College where he was graduated in 1956. For the past three years he has been a student at Union Theological Seminary in New York City.

Cornwall, where Frank's first pastorate is situated, is a city of 5,000 people, sixty miles north of New York City.

WHAT'S DOING

D. D. Muir, your Telephone Manager in Carmel

Safety's always in style at the telephone company. And though telephone man Don Bandoni may not look it, he's dressed for safety from the top of his hard-hat to his climbing boots. Those glasses aren't to correct his eyesight, they're strictly for protection. So are the insulated rubber gloves, safety belt, and other equipment he carries. The special safety devices Don and other phone men have for each job pays off for them and their families, of course. Pays off for you, too, because safe jobs are good jobs—and good jobs attract the capable men like Don Bandoni who keep your service working right.

Would you be panicked ... or prepared?

A class in Standard First Aid is scheduled to start at the Carmel Red Cross on Tuesday, February 16 at 7:30 p.m. The new revised First Aid course has been condensed into the basic essentials for emergency First Aid. Four classes of three hours each are all that are needed to learn the newest techniques, including the easy, dramatic mouth to mouth resuscitation.

Dr. Margaret W. Barnes will be the instructor in charge of the class which is open to adults and young people sixteen years of age or older.

Call the Carmel Red Cross to enroll. MAYfair 4-6921.

Ed Caves, President of the Telco Bowling League in Monterey, resides in Pacific Grove with his wife and daughter. Ed, who has been with the Telephone Company for 11 years, is a deskman in the Monterey office, where upon receiving a trouble report from one of our customers, Ed tests the line and dispatches a repairman to the troubled area to clear the line. Through efforts of telephone people such as Ed, we are constantly striving to give the best service possible at the least cost.

Mrs. Bramhall, Dr. Argo To Wed
Mrs. Dorothy Gaylord Bramhall and Dr. William Lind Argo of Fresno will be married in the spring. Mrs. Bramhall has been on the professional staff of the Monterey Peninsula Council of Girl Scouts for ten years and executive director of the council for the past five years. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Gaylord of Hillsboro. She has one daughter, Dorothy Louise.

Dr. Argo is the son of Mrs. Bernard O. Weitz of Carmel. He spent his childhood here and part of his high school years. Later he attended Berkeley High School where he first met his future bride. Mrs. Bramhall graduated from Mills College and Dr. Argo from McGill University Medical School. Both married and were widowed before they met a month ago after many years. They will live in Fresno. Dr. Argo has three children, Sarah, Ann and Warren.

Philip Wins Gold Cord

Mrs. Philip Arnold attended end-of-the-fourth classification period ceremonies at Palo Alto Military Academy on Sunday afternoon. Her son, Philip, was awarded the gold cord for scholastic achievement and the silver cord for academic achievement. He earned a 98 percent average in his scholastic work to win the gold cord and 96 percent in academic subjects, which include military training and physical education, for the silver cord. He ranked third in the school.

Philip is in the fifth grade. This is his second year at the military academy. Before that he was a pupil at Woods School.

Chamber Music Society Tea

Carmel Chamber Music Society's recent bountiful concert for subscribers, patrons and sponsors, a recital by Mary Dobel, cellist, and Gilbert Boyer, pianist, was followed by a tea and social hour. The pourers were Mrs. Hascal Stewart and Mrs. Kappa Belknap.

The refreshments were arranged by a committee consisting of Miss Sheila Webster, Mrs. Jerald Slavich, Mrs. Margaret Aitkenhead, Miss Charlotte Perry, Mrs. Edwin Culver, Mrs. Eiko Yoshizato, Mrs. Chapman, and Mrs. Gilbert Boyer.

Attending were sponsors and patrons and their guests, among whom were Miss Marian Adams, Mrs. A. M. Allen, Mrs. Margaret Aitkenhead, Mrs. Antone Ara Bia, Dr. Margaret W. Barnes, Miss Cora A. Irene Fernandez, Sunday Bride

At 3:00 o'clock on Sunday afternoon Irene Fernandez of Carmel and Noel Fraser Rogers of Spokane, Washington, were married in Mission San Carlos Borromeo.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, Jose Fernandez. Her full-length white taffeta gown had an overskirt of lace and net. A tiny pearl crown held her fingertip veil in place and she carried a cascade bouquet of white butterfly orchids.

Her attendants included Sharron Wilson and Mrs. Jeffrey Smith (Connie Chedester), both former classmates of the bride at Carmel High School. Sharron was maid of honor and Connie shared bridesmaid duties with Susan Fernandez, younger sister of the bride. Laurie Lawitzke was flower girl. They were dressed alike in satin-trimmed old rose silk organza frocks. Their matching latticed velvet headdresses had rhinestone-studded veils and they carried white carnation bouquets.

Charles Jett Jr. was best man and ushers were Dick Olsen and Terry McTeague, all of Monterey.

Mrs. Fernandez attended her daughter's marriage in a blue lace cocktail-length dress with harmonizing hat and accessories.

A reception for 150 guests was held at the Mark Thomas Inn following the ceremony.

The bride is a former songleader at Carmel High School. She graduated in June and has been continuing her education at Monterey Peninsula College.

The Most Reverend Harry A. Clinch, Auxiliary Bishop and pastor of Carmel Mission, representing the Diocese of Monterey-Fresno, purchased 27 acres of Del Monte Properties last week. Shown above with Bishop Clinch is Richard Osborne, president of Del Monte Properties. The land, atop Carmel Hill, south of Agujito Road, is the site of a new Central Catholic High School.

at Fort Ord.

After a California honeymoon the couple will live at 897 Wainwright Street in Monterey.

Anne Putnam Wed In Las Vegas

Anne Pattee Putnam and Thomas Russell Conklin were married on February 4 at 4:00 o'clock in the afternoon in the First Methodist Church of Las Vegas, Nevada. The Reverend Richard Ewing performed the ceremony which was witnessed by Anne's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Putnam. They flew to Las Vegas and there met the bridal couple who arrived by car.

Anne wore a navy blue sheer wool dress for her wedding with a white orchid corsage.

After the marriage, Anne and her husband continued on their way East. The bridegroom will enter the University of Bridgeport in Connecticut this week. Both he and Anne have been studying at Monterey Peninsula College and their wedding and trip East were planned for the semester break between both schools.

On Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Putnam received a telephone call from Monmouth, Illinois, where the bride and groom were visiting Mrs. Putnam's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Tubbs.

Anne attended Sunset School and graduated from Carmel High School in June. She has a sister, Jane, and a brother, Reed. Mrs. Frank Putnam Sr. of Carmel is her grandmother.

Her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Conklin of Shelton, Connecticut. He met Anne when he was stationed at Fort Ord at the end of three years of Army service.

Two Women's Club Events

Mrs. Lorita Baker Valley will present one of her current reviews for members of the Carmel Woman's Club tomorrow afternoon at 2:00 o'clock. The meeting will be open to the public with a small admission charge.

Mrs. Valley will discuss a recent Eastern trip, concentrating on problems of NATO and Europe. She will also review the New York play Raisin in the Sun. There will be no tea after the meeting.

On Tuesday afternoon Edward Kennedy will speak to Carmel Woman's Club members about his experiences as a member of the press group that accompanied President Eisenhower on his recent goodwill trip abroad. Husbands of club members will be guests on this occasion.

Miss Philippine Crecelius and Miss Lucy Mills will be co-hostesses for the tea following the talk. Assisting them will be Mrs. W. T. Seawell, Mrs. Charles Fonteneau, Mrs. Roy Elliott, Mrs. A. G. Bolm, Mrs. E. L. Bidwell and Miss Elizabeth Reid. Mrs. Greene Erskine, Mrs. Katherine Lindhardt, Mrs. Edward Maybury and Mrs. T. V. O. Terwilliger will preside at the tea tables.

Missy's Tenth Birthday Party

Sixteen friends were invited to Melissa Lofton's tenth birthday party on Saturday afternoon. Each guest drew original colored ink designs on a white cotton sheet for Missy's bedroom and also on a large piece of paper to be used as a mural memento of the occasion. Games occupied the rest of the afternoon after cake and ice cream were served by Missy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Lofton.

Red and white lace paper hearts marked the place of each of the girls at the dining table centered by a pink rose-trimmed cake.

The guests were Jill Whitcomb, Terry Head, Mary Jane Thompson, Joan Cramer, Lissa Sherman, Ann Hill, Barbara Body, Louise Cady, Sherry Bailey, Shelley Lamar, Susie Vial, Betty DeWitt, Kim Dennis, Marjorie Black, Marsha Lane and Mary Arnold.

To Play With N. Y. Philharmonic

Pianist John Browning, who made many friends here during the time he was stationed at Fort Ord, will be guest soloist with the New York Philharmonic on Sunday. The program will be broadcast to the Pacific Coast.

John Browning also gave concerts on the Peninsula while he was here. He returns to Carmel to visit whenever his concert schedule allows.

Stanford Meeting Monday Night

Frank Albert, newest member of the Monterey Peninsula Stanford Club, will introduce Chuck Taylor who will be the speaker at the annual meeting of the group in Mark Thomas Inn on Monday evening at 8:00 o'clock. A no-host cocktail party will be given at 6:30 o'clock.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERMON

Healing through spiritual means as practiced by Christ Jesus will be brought out at Christian Science services Sunday.

Readings from the King James Version of the Bible and correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will comprise the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Soul," a word which, when capitalized, is used in Christian Science as a synonym for God.

Jesus' healing of the man "possessed with a devil, blind, and dumb" (Matthew 12) will be included in the Scriptural readings.

The following citation will be among those read from Science and Health (210:11-16): "Knowing that Soul and its attributes were forever manifested through man, the Master healed the sick, gave sight to the blind, hearing to the deaf, feet to the lame, thus bringing to light the scientific action of the divine Mind on human minds and bodies and giving a better understanding of Soul and salvation."

INTERIM ZONING

The City Council of the City of Carmel-by-the-Sea does ordain as follows:

Section 1. Section 3 of Ordinance 257 N. S. be, and the same is hereby amended to read as follows:

"Section 3. Termination. The provisions of this ordinance shall become inoperative and of no further force and effect after the 30th day of June, 1960."

Section 2. Statement of Urgency and Effective Date. This ordinance is hereby declared to be an urgency ordinance and shall take effect immediately upon final passage and adoption. A statement of the urgency is as follows:

That it is vital and necessary to the City to amend its interim zoning laws as provided herein, so as to enable the City to complete its Master Plan and Zoning in connection therewith. That, further, it is deemed necessary that this Ordinance be adopted as rapidly as possible, so as to prevent an influx of new construction which, if permitted, would to a large extent render the within ordinance ineffective and hamper the adoption of a final zoning ordinance. That it is for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety.

Pine Needles ...Mrs. Brown Returns To Carmel

Mrs. Florence Sharon Brown has returned to Carmel to live and is staying at Cypress West Hotel. She is the mother of Mrs. James Doud and the aunt of Senator Fred Farr.

Mrs. Brown has been away from Carmel for several years, living first in Rome and then in New York City. Previous to this she maintained a home here for many years.

Sergeant Meek In Korea

Army Master Sergeant Edwin T. Meek recently arrived in Korea and is now a member of the First Cavalry Division. He is a supply sergeant with Headquarters Company of the division's Eighth Cavalry. He was last stationed at Fort Ord.

Mrs. Meek and her son Rocky, ten years old, will live in Carmel while Sergeant Meek is overseas. Their home is in Mission Fields. A second son, Airman Third Class Lyle Meek, is stationed at Hamilton Field.

Make Perfect Scores

Sunset School eighth graders who received honorable mention for perfect scores in the State compulsory annual test on the Constitution of the United States were Nola Theis, Claudia Naverette, Ed Neroda, Mike Newman, Dianna Thomas, Janice Wilder, Tim Mosolf, Pete Conway, Mary Pat Palmer and Steven Dyer.

Kelly June Ward, First Child

Mr. and Mrs. James Ward became parents for the first time on January 24 when their daughter, Kelly Jane, was born at the Peninsula Community Hospital. Her birth weight was seven pounds, 13 ounces.

Kelly June's parents came to live here a month ago. Her father, an attorney, is stationed at Ford Ord until the end of next month. They formerly lived in San Francisco.

Grandparents of the baby are Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sander of Long Beach. Mrs. Sander left Carmel on Friday after a week here with Kelly June and her parents.

To Go To Convention

Nelson O. Edmonds of Village Hardware will be among 5,000 retailers attending the fifty-ninth annual convention and hardware-housewares show presented by the California Retail Hardware Association in San Francisco, February 14-16. The event will be situated in Brooks Hall at the Civic Center.

Arts Commission Finds Two Projects More Than Enough

(Continued from Page One) she continued, and remarked that the Forest Theater was only used, perhaps, twice a year and was situated on valuable city-owned land that might well be developed as a permanent year-round exhibition center for Carmel. "This is a hot subject," she concluded.

Besides the $2,300 for stage flooring, Mr. Adams' report contained estimates of $2,000 for a scenery storage building at the Forest Theater and $500 for a lighting and sound structure, all necessary for Festival productions.

Arts commissioners decided the condition of the Forest Theater and the financing of required construction for the festival was the concern of the city council. They would concentrate on ascertaining what revenues might be expected from the Festival. They appointed a committee of Commissioners Maxine Albro, Ruth Cooke and Geza St. Galy to ask the Festival Council to make a study of possible sources and amounts of revenue and report at the March 9 meeting of the commission.

An artist-in-residence committee of Mrs. Robert Aurner, Dr. Thomas Barrows, Mrs. Ruth Cooke, Gilbert Boyer and another member from the commission, as yet unappointed, will study the artist-in-residence project.

Commissioners Nelo Drizari and Vaughn Shoemaker thought the commission should devote their attention first to the Arts Festival and wait to develop the artist-in-residence project. Funds for both projects will be solicited from citizens. Mr. Drizari thought this might lead to confusion. Both thought the Festival had priority.

Yesterday Mr. Drizari pledged $10 to the artist-in-residence project which so far has received one other donation of $25.

Donations for the Arts Festival will start at $2, those for the artist-in-residence project at $10. Mr. Boyer thought a house for the artist might also be donated. Mrs. Cooke suggested all donors to the artist-in-residence project should have their names inscribed on an honor roll at City Hall. Artist-in-residence discussion was continued until next month.

Gilbert Boyer was elected permanent chairman of the Arts Commission yesterday afternoon; Geza St. Galy, vice chairman.

Whittlesey, Whitaker Run For City Council

(Continued from Page One) council. Its formation was an excellent step. We are in great danger of completely losing our characteristic pine trees unless more extensive measures are adopted.

"I also feel that one thing that has hampered the council in the last couple of years is that measures are proposed by members of the council without proper consideration before they are placed before the public."

An attorney, Eben Whittlesey came to Carmel in 1942, and has been an associate of Shelburn Robinson in the practice of law since that time. He is married to the former Mary Bigland, Carmel resident since 1926. They have one daughter, Debora.

Mr. Whittlesey was born in New York. He is a graduate of Williams College and Stanford Law School. He has been active in community life and has served as president of the Lions Club, the Monterey County Symphony Association, vice president of the Carmel Business Association, president of the Community Chest, on the board of directors of the Carmel Chapter of the American Red Cross, president of the Musical Art Club, and a vestryman at All Saints' Episcopal Church.

Mr. Whitaker states that he is running again because he thinks his years of interest and experience with the city council will be useful in helping the city solve problems which lie ahead in the next four years. He also feels that his long conservation record, particularly with the Point Lobos League, in respect to working with State and county officials, will be of help to the city.

Mr. Whitaker is the owner of the Forge in the Forest. He came to Carmel 33 years ago when he was 20 years old to find his high school sweetheart, Elaine Legere. They were married on June 24, 1927, and have lived here ever since. Their son, Dr. Stephen Whitaker, a chemical engineer on the research staff of the Dupont Company in Wilmington, Delaware, and their daughter, Mrs. Wynne Hutchings, are both graduates of the Carmel schools.

Mr. Whitaker, an ardent conservationist, is president of the Point Lobos League. He was active in this group's work to raise $15,000 to match county funds to acquire the beaches south of Carmel for a state park.

He is interested in preserving the trees in Carmel and is unofficial guardian of Carmel's forest replacement program.

He has also concerned himself with the Mission and First Street park site during the past year, urging the city to abandon use of the property as a street department storage yard and dump.

Mr. Whitaker is also a member of the county open space committee.

Last week Michael Franke and James Dixon declared their intention of running, and took out declaration of candidacy forms.

Two of the three incumbents will not run for re-election, the third, Tom May, says that he will but has not filed as yet.

There are three vacancies.

Meanwhile, the Society for the Conservation and Preservation of Carmel, under the leadership of Jeanie Morgan Klenke, is seeking three candidates: "an elder citizen, who has lived here long enough to know the community and the values the citizens treasure; an educator, and someone out of the art or writing world," according to Mrs. Klenke.

They have decided upon one of their candidates, and are considering others; they wish to delay announcement until they have their slate of three.

Carmel Red Cross Starts Drive In March For $28,436

All areas are in process of organizing workers to be ready to start the Carmel Red Cross Fund Drive on March 1 for the $28,436.00 goal. Letters to special givers will be in the mail by February 17. Special givers are sent letters each year in advance of the opening of the drive with the hope that the response by the first of March will produce a starting "nest egg." In the past the response from the special givers has reached 95%. August Johnson, general chairman for the 1960 Red Cross Drive, is asking in his letter that they give in proportion as they have prospered, and states that in this year of great economic plenty he has every reason to believe that the goal will be met.

Following are chairman: Carmel Business, Alman J. Cook; Residential, Mrs. Jack Martin; Motels, Mrs. George Tett; Lower Carmel Valley, Mrs. Eugene Schetter; Carmel Valley Business, Dr. E. P. Marcucci and the Kiwanis Club; Carmel Highlands, Mrs. David Silver; Carmel Highlands Business, Everett Banfield; Pebble Beach, Mrs. Richard Osborne; Big Sur, Miss Doris Fee and Mr. Phillip E. Johnson, co-chairmen.

The Residential Area Captains are: Messadames Frederick Rider, Larry Rose, Isabel Terhune, J. J. Downey, Ruby Marrs, E. P. McMurry, Peyton March, Edna Stenersen, M. A. Smith, Ralph Castagna, Leo Tanous, Joseph Giarratana, Stanley Gievetz, A. M. Teteu, G. G. Smith, C. W. Ale, A. H. Johnson, Neal McGinty, Gordon Campbell, Karl Frank, Joseph Pistulka, Walter Pilot and M. Cromwell.

Wish For A Husband Sunday At Mission San Miguel Fiesta

The 150th anniversary of an Indian girl's using the Wishing Chair of Mission San Miguel to obtain a husband will be observed at the Old Mission near Paso Robles with a pageant re-enacting the romantic occasion at 3:00 o'clock Sunday afternoon. Valentine's Day. Following the pageant, all unmarried women present will be allowed to sit in the chair, which by Indian tradition has helped many Indian girls and Spanish señoritas obtain husbands since 1810.

The program will also include an enchilada supper and a colorfully costumed Mexican orchestra which will serenade the spectators with Spanish and Mexican songs before the pageant and during the supper.

The historic chair of stout oak, with love birds worked into the velvet tapestry, had its first romantic use in 1810 by Conchita, a Tulare Indian girl whose village was wiped out by the plague. Conchita's marriage prospects seemed dim because of an Indian taboo against intermarriage among the tribes. Padre Martin Catala solved her problem by blessing the chair and telling Conchita "If what you want is something very good and if you do all you can to make the wish come true, then, wishing in this chair will help it come true." Several months later Conchita was married, and the fame of the Wishing Chair spread throughout the area.

Ada McClain

Mrs. Ada B. McClain, who had been in failing health for some time, died yesterday morning in the home of her granddaughter, Mrs. James L. Harris, Upper Waldon Road, Carmel Highlands.

Mrs. McClain was a native Californian. She was born on February 19, 1871. For the past 15 years she had lived in this area, first in Carmel, then at Carmel Highlands. Her husband Frank B. McClain died on December 5, 1954.

Besides Mrs. Harris, she is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Jean N. Jakobsen of San Anselmo; a son, Frank L. McClain of Redding; five other grandchildren, Mrs. Mary Tromly and Miss Anne and Miss Elizabeth McClain of Redding; Mrs. Marilyn Eckersley and Tom Jakobsen of San Anselmo; and four great-grandchildren, Darrell and Dolly Harris of Carmel Highlands and Deborah and Steven Tromley of Redding.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow morning at 10:00 o'clock in All Saints' Episcopal Church with the rector, the Reverend David Hill, officiating.

Friends wishing to honor the memory of Mrs. McClain are asked to do so in the form of donations to charities of their choice.
